

'NESHAMINY' IS NEW NAME CHOSEN FOR FIVE SCHOOL DISTRICTS CENTERED AT LANGHORNE; ANNOUNCED IN ASSEMBLY

Adopted by Board of School Directors from Many Suggested by Student Council and Others—History of "Neshaminy" is Intertwined with Indian History and Lore.

LANGHORNE, Jan. 13.—A special student assembly was convened yesterday for the purpose of presenting to the student body the new name adopted by the board of school directors for the school districts of this area. The new name for the district is "Neshaminy." Included among the speakers were Dr. J. F. Scull, chairman of the committee to suggest suitable names; Philip Lewis, secretary of the joint board of school directors; and Dr. Charles Boehm, county superintendent of schools. The speakers pointed out that the name Langhorne-Middletown was not sufficiently inclusive to cover the five districts now members of the joint organization. The name Langhorne-Middletown originally applied only to the two school districts. When other districts were included complications developed in the records kept in the Department of Public Instruction, since it was not always clear which districts were included in the report. Moreover, compound names are usually clumsy in common usage. There was also a general desire to have a name that more nearly represented all of the districts in this locality.

The student body was asked to present names and through the leadership of the student council the following proposals were made. Langhorne-Middletown, Neshaminy, Playwick, Redskin, Indian Hill, Hilltop, King's Point, Middletownship, Campus, Durham. The most popular names according to student voting were Langhorne-Middletown, Neshaminy and Playwick. The directors studied the merits of each of the several names and finally concluded that Neshaminy was the one more adaptable and applicable to the situation.

The history of Neshaminy is inextricably intertwined with Indian history and Indian lore. The Neshaminy Valley in Middletown township was the avenue through which pioneer settlers branched out into distant parts of the country and into adjoining counties during the early history of Bucks County. While the Neshaminy creek flows through central and northern Bucks County, it does not hold a prominence in any area so much as it does in Middletown and Lower Southampton townships. The name Neshaminy possesses musical qualities and adapts itself very well to cheers and school songs, the directors feel.

The student council plans to conduct contests for the purpose of developing new school songs and cheers. School stationery and papers of the school district will bear the official name, "Neshaminy Joint School District." Mr. Lewis will communicate with the various offices of the Government in Harrisburg, advising them of the new name by which in the future the school districts jointly in this area will be known.

Father of Victim of Edgely Crash Given $6,000 Verdict

August 2, 1947. He had 1300 miles on it.
"Mr. Wildblood said to me, 'Loan me your keys,' and the next time I saw my car it was wrecked on the highway. Walter G. Rittler had been driving it and was going to take it to his home to show to his wife. Mr. Wildblood gave me a brand new car after mine had been wrecked," testified Potent.
The decedent-plaintiff was part-owner of Bristol Machine & Tool Company. He was 22 years old, had been discharged from the Navy, Nov. 1941, and was unmarried.
The plaintiff-father, Tomasso Potent, testified their son was aiding them in buying a home and contributed so much each week towards paying off the mortgage. A resident of West Virginia, he came to Bristol to work in Fleetwings in the Summer of 1945.
Each of the three defendants was represented by his own counsel.

COMMUNICATION

Editor, Courier:
Police Protection!—Do all of us know the meaning of these words? Do we know what they stand for? In our national and state constitutions it states that all persons residing in the United States are entitled to police protection. Are we, the residents of Bristol Terrace I. and II. and the surrounding territories, getting this full protection? You may answer these questions in your own manner, but the truth in more ways than one is known. There are many things from which we are not protected, but the point that we are driving at is the protection and welfare of the girls of our community.
In the past few weeks different reports were turned in about the same individual stopping several girls. If we had the police protection, the girls would not have to worry as to how they would get to and from their destination. If you recall, there is only one police officer covering the Bristol Township territory, which is far greater than he alone can cover. He is on duty eight hours of the day, during which there is no trouble, but after he goes off duty the trouble begins. Don't you think that we should have more police protection?
Are you, the people of this community, going to let the welfare of our girls be in the hands of the police or these annoying strangers? Are you, the parents of these girls, going to sit by and allow your daughters to be molested as they walk to and from their destination? If we all try our best to get a better form of protection for all in

NO WINGS AT ALL
The circus is one commercial enterprise that is usually sure of getting a lot of free publicity from the newspapers, which are likely to be happy to print the effusions of the circus press agent. Editors recognize that people like to read about the biggest gorilla or elephant, the new baby-sea lion, or the trapeze artist direct from Paris, France.
By the same token, Duke, Duchess, Does and Doesn't, the wingless chickens, have been handsomely received by the press of the New England and Middle Atlantic states where they have been in view on a tour of the country. They are housed in a plexiglass cage with fluorescent lighting and germ-free air.
These wingless chickens were developed after 30 generations of breeding by Peter Baumann of Des Moines, Iowa. And in their tour of the country they have a sponsor, a poultry feed manufacturing firm. The claim is not advanced, however, that they got that way by sticking to a diet of you-know-what poultry feed.

"Neshaminy" is New Name Chosen For Five School Districts

has been spelled variously in the past the official spelling will be Neshaminy, it is announced. Other spellings that were considered were Neshamina, Neshamine, and Neshamenah. The historians give the meaning of the word, "The double drinking place," or "Where we drink twice," from the fact perhaps that there are two springs near the spot where the Indians lived, where possibly they drank spring water and never river water if they could avoid it. In "Place Names of Bucks County," the history of the name is traced to Lindstroms Maps about the middle of the 17th Century.

The immediate response of the student body upon receiving the first official information of the new name was very enthusiastic. It is believed that the community generally will approve of the action of the board of school directors. Since consideration is being given to provide more extensive building facilities for the children, the name comes at a most appropriate time.

EDGELY

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Trask and children Mary Ann and Shirley, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sloan, Vineyard, N. J., spent Saturday and Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Trask.

Mrs. William Waterson and children Kathleen and "Danny," of Modena, spent from Wednesday until Sunday visiting Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ashton. Mr. and Mrs. Ashton motored back to Modena with their guests on Sunday.

EDDINGTON

Congratulations are being extended to Mr. and Mrs. Fredrick Gottsabend upon the birth of a daughter on Jan. 10th in the Episcopal Hospital, Philadelphia. The infant weighed 6 lbs., 9 oz., and has been named Linda Carol. Mrs. Gottsabend is the former Miss Josephine Cartwright, Denver, Colo.

rating scales used by different localities.

Walter Miller announced that the teachers will aid in the original planning for future classrooms and for new buildings. It is stated that Bristol township school board feels that teachers "will have better ideas than architects as to what features should be included in classrooms so that such rooms will be more effective spots of teaching and learning."

The teachers then gathered in the home economics room for a meat loaf dinner served by women of Maple Shade PTA. The group then viewed color pictures of Christmas decorations, photographed in the rooms of the various township school buildings.

Reading tests are being given to all junior high school pupils this week and next week by Miss Edna M. Pennypacker, guidance director of Bristol Township junior high school.

These tests are designed to measure the size of each pupil's vocabulary and to test the speed and level of comprehension at which the pupil reads.

When the test results are obtained each pupil, upon request, will be informed of his reading level. He will then know the grade level of his reading achievement, how he stands in relationship with other junior high pupils in the United States, and he will be able to compare the results of this reading test with those he has taken previous to this year to determine how much reading progress has been made.

this year, compared with a previous figure of $22,707.

Dr. Boehm added that these figures do not include additional reimbursements for transportation. In 1950-51 the Pennsbury Joint School Board will receive from the state approximately 54% of the operating costs of its other vehicles.

YMCA TEAM SPLITS A DOUBLE-HEADER

The Bristol Y. M. C. A. basketball teams split a doubleheader last evening at the Y. M. C. A. In the first game the "Y" youth team was beaten by the Celtics Boys Club by the score of 31-29. Manager Fuoco used his entire squad in this tilt. The game was close right up to the final whistle. Mulligan was high man for the Celtics with 12 points. "Dick" Kornstedt led the "Y" boys with 10 points. Luther Royds played a good defensive game as he broke up play after play. In the second game the YMCA adult team played the Third Ward A. C. The game was a low-scoring one with both teams playing good defensive ball. The final score being 23-17 in favor of the YMCA. "Davey" Morrel stood out for the winners with 12 points for the night. "Hughy" McElroy and Dane Ludwig played air-tight defensive ball for the "Y." Ennis, Stone and McGerr did all the scoring for the third warders. Adult teams in this area interested in scheduling games are requested to contact Frank J. Fuoco at the YMCA.

Today's Quiet Moment

By the Rev. S. B. Brown
Pastor
Bethel A. M. E. Church

Eternal God, our Father, on whose lips are the words of eternity, speak today in terms of Thy infinite grace, confirm Thy promises of strength to overcome our weakness and establish Thy comfort to quiet our distress. Make known to those who are lost the way of salvation and reveal to those who are confused the way of peace. May we accept Jesus as Thy supreme word of redemption and grace. Amen.

YOU couldn't drive!

The auto accident wasn't your fault. But under new state law—effective February 1, 1950—you still may have to prove financial responsibility up to $11,000—or lose your driving rights.

Don't let that happen! Prove your financial responsibility in advance with Farm Bureau auto insurance.

Farm Bureau's standard, non-assessable policy meets every insurance requirement of the new law. It can protect your right to drive.

★ Rates are low because of careful risk selection
★ Claim service is fair and prompt
★ Farm Bureau is largest auto insurer in Pennsylvania

SPORTSMEN'S BRIEFS

By JOE ELBERSON

Shoot . . . this Sunday, over the traps of the Bucks County Shooting Association, Chalfont, a flyer shoot will be held, beginning promptly at 11 a. m. Special attraction will be a 50-bird Challenge Cup Match, between J. M. Spangler, challenger, from Harrisburg, and A. Weiss, Hazleton, present holder of the Cup.

It's not legal . . . rumors have been coming my way to the effect that some of our Bristol boys are setting traps for rabbits in the area immediately adjacent to the Borough. If this is so the law is being broken. You cannot take rabbits by trapping.

Boys, in the interest of conservation, of good sportsmanship, of not being hauled before a justice of the peace, of keeping your funds or those of your parents safe from being drawn upon, please desist from rabbit trapping. The fines are really stiff for this law-breaking practice.

Stocking figures . . . a total of 50,000 fish were placed in Bucks County's open fishing waters during 1949, according to a summary just received from State Fish Warden, Harry Cole.

That figure compares favorably with totals for the last several years. The total for the Bristol area (Silver Lake, Canal, Maple Beach) was 15,000 or about 30 per cent of the county's entire stocking. Here is the breakdown for our area: Silver Lake, 9,000; Canal, 3,000; Maple Beach, 2,100.

The County's distribution, by area, number and species is as follows: Neshaunim Creek—catfish, 2000; bass, 2700; bream, 800; Tobiehon Creek—catfish, 2000; bream, 600; bass, 3600; Delaware Canal—catfish, 800; bass, 700; bream, 500; yellow perch, 1000; Cook's Creek—brook trout, 5200; rainbow trout, 1700; Pine Creek—catfish, 500; bream, 300; Little Neshaunim Creek—catfish, 500; bass, 1100; bream, 200; Unami Creek—catfish, 2200; bass, 1400; bream, 500; Maple Beach—catfish, 1100; bream, 500; yellow perch, 500; Mill Creek—brook trout, 1000; Lake Warren—catfish, 1700; bass, 2300; bream, 500; yellow perch, 1000; Silver Lake—catfish, 2000; bass, 2000; bream, 1000; yellow perch, 1500; Northeast Branch of the Perkiomen—catfish, 600; bream, 300; bass, 500; Three-Mile Run—catfish, 300; bream, 200; Pidecock Creek—catfish, 200; bream, 300; Deep Run—catfish, 300; bream, 200.

More deer stories . . . unusual incidents that occurred during the 1949 seasons continue to come to light.

The antlers of a 175 pound buck taken in Storey Creek Valley, Dauphin County, were still in the velvet. The left antler was a 16 inch spike; the right antler measured 17 inches, had 3 points.

A hunter from New Jersey killed his buck in Pike County on November 30. The man wrote this to the Pennsylvania Game Commission, remarking on the way gremlins take advantage of some people: "Six miles from my home in Bound Brook I stopped to call my wife and tell her the news of the 8 point buck I was bringing home. I had a bite to eat—went outside to find the deer stolen from the fender of my car. What had been one of my most pleasant hunting trips really fell apart right there!"

Just as the luck of individual hunters varies, so does that of parties. This fact was again evidenced by comparisons between three deer rosters recently returned (not required) to the Game Commission.

The rosters, submitted by the three parties, all hunting in Lycoming County, indicated the following results: No. 1—Six men from Pittsburgh and vicinity left for home with their six bucks on December 3rd. No. 2—Eleven men, mostly from Chester County, returned home December 4th with a clean slate . . . no deer. No. 3—Ten men from Pittsburgh and nearby towns arrived in camp December 4th and departed on the 11th. They took with them one 6 pointer and 2 does.

Troubles . . . with the weather so "open" during the early part of January, muskrat trappers have found it no more difficult than would have been the case in December. Pennsylvania's Game Protectors report trapping violations to date as normal. "Normal," so used, means trouble on the trap lines.

Trap and fur stealing have become all too common. This case in point was recently reported: A young lad living in Lancaster set his 'rat traps at 7:00 a. m. At 10:45 a. m. the same morning the game protector in that area received a phone call reporting the theft of the young fellow's traps.

The Game Law provides that anyone caught disturbing another's traps shall pay a fine of $25.00. Taking another's traps or taking fur from them is larceny and is punishable as such. When traps are stolen, game tags attached to them are usually removed. Knowing this, the experienced trapper cuts some special symbol or mark into his steel traps so that he will be able to positively identify his property, once it is located.

Shoot . . . Newportville Rod & Gun Club will hold a 16-yd. practice bluecock shoot this Sunday, January 15, beginning at 1 p. m. All shooters are welcome.

HIGH SCHOOL COACH HOPES "13TH" WILL NOT BE UNLUCKY

Coach Jerry Bloom is hoping that the "Friday, the 13th" jinx will not trail his Bristol High Warriors to night as they travel to Bridgeport Township to meet the Upper Merion

High team. There will be a junior varsity game between the two schools, starting at 7:30 o'clock.

Bloom feels that the Warriors have struck their stride and despite the heaviest part of the schedule coming up feels confident that his lads will give a fine account of themselves. The "murderer's row" section of the schedule starts tonight and follows with Trenton Catholic, Palmyra, Allentown, and Morrisville.

In their last starts since the Christmas holiday, Bristol has beaten both Pennsbury and Bensalem, to take a commanding lead in the Lower Bucks circuit. The Bloom-men have won four games and lost two for the season.

Upper Merion is coached by "Tom" Campton, a former coach of the Bristol High teams. Last season, Bristol beat Upper Merion on the home court but lost a close one while visiting the Merionians. Upper Merion is having an in-and-out season but intends to be "up" for Bristol.

Coach Bloom intends to use Joe

Pindar, "Bill" Condit, Frank Rich, Frank Barbetta, and "Vic" Cauti as his starting five. Barbetta was injured against Bensalem but returned in the closing seconds of the game in time to throw in the ball which Rich dumped into the basket for the deciding points.

Coach Harry McClister's Junior Varsity team will aim for its seventh win of the season. The Jayvees have been beaten but once, the Alumni turning the trick in the second game of the season.
